A note from Matthew

Founder, The MonkeyPC

I'm Matthew, and I started The MonkeyPC. The idea came to me back in early 2010, while I was studying in Oxford. I wanted to give people the finest complete hosting I could, with real help from people who care. Now it's back, and you've chosen to be part of it. That means a lot to me.

We're a small UK team, and we like it that way. When you write to us, a real person reads your message and gets back to you, in writing, so you always have a record.

If anything isn't clear, or you'd just like to say hello, open a ticket in My Account. I'd love to hear how you get on.

Matthew

Getting started in 4 easy steps

We'll email your login details as soon as your plan is ready. Then work through these steps, one at a time. There's a Help Guide for each one, with pictures.

1 Log in to My Account

Go to my.themonkeypc.co.uk and log in with the email address you signed up with. My Account is where you'll find everything: your plan, bills, domains and help.

First thing: turn on two-step login (page 4)

2 Connect your domain

Your domain is your web address, like yourbusiness.co.uk. Bought it from us? It's already done. Bought it somewhere else? Copy the two "nameservers" from your welcome email into your old provider's settings. It can take up to a day to start working.

Help Guides › Point your domain

3 Set up your email

In My Account, open cPanel (your website's control panel), then Email Accounts. Create an address such as hello@yourbusiness.co.uk, then add it to your phone and computer.

4 Put your website online

On Gorilla? Fill in our 10-minute website questionnaire (the link is in your welcome email). Your website goes live within 10 working days of getting your words and pictures. Already have a website? We can move it for you (page 3). Starting from scratch? Install WordPress in a few clicks.

Rather pay once? Monkey WebDesign is £599 one-off, including a simple logo and your first year of Chimp, and the website is yours to keep. Domains: .co.uk £9.99 a year, .com £14.99. Your domain is always yours.

Keeping your website safe

Good news: we do most of the work for you. A couple of simple habits on your side are all it takes to keep things running smoothly.

What we look after

- A free SSL padlock, so your visitors' details stay private.
- Daily backups, so we can always put things back.
- Updates for WordPress and plugins on Chimp or Gorilla.
- Round-the-clock checks and free fixes if you're ever hacked, on Gorilla.

Three simple habits

- Turn on two-step login in My Account. It only takes a minute.
- Use a different password for each login. A password manager makes this easy.
- Keep your email address up to date, so our messages reach you.

A quick word about emails

We will never ask for your password. If an email ever looks a bit odd, there's no need to click anything. Just log in to my.themonkeypc.co.uk yourself, or ask us in a ticket and we'll happily check it for you.

If something doesn't look right

Don't worry. Open a ticket in My Account and tell us what you've noticed. We'll take a look, and if needed we can put your website back from a backup.

Good to know

Read email anywhere

Open your email in any web browser with webmail. Go to yourdomain.co.uk/webmail and log in with your email address and password.

Reminders before renewals

We email your bill before your plan renews, and remind you before a domain runs out, so nothing stops by surprise.

Planned work

If we ever need to do work that could take your website offline for a while, we'll email you at least 48 hours before.

It's all yours

Your website, emails and domain belong to you. You can download a full copy from cPanel whenever you like.

Getting help

All our help is in writing, so you always have a record. A real person from our small UK team reads every message.
